Benefit for TVET community

Southeast Asia – The value of technical and vocational education and training (TVET) has long been recognized by the industry sectors in ASEAN. Mainstreaming and broadening access to quality Technical Education and Vocational Training to prepare for global economy and AEC where there will be free flow of goods, services, investment capital as well as skilled labour.

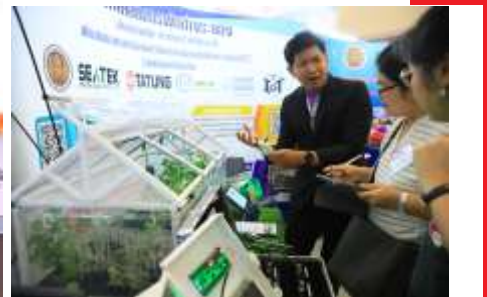

While there are many occasions, both on a national and international level, where policy makers and educationists could attend to listen and acquire ideas and viewpoints on what could be done, there is no organized platform for Vocational Institutes to get down to business and get help to get things done at the management and operating level.

TVET CONNEX offers a fresh new format which answer to what TVET communities are looking for. An event they can source for partners, providers of high quality resources and get business objectives done to realize their KPIs in a highly efficient format.

Why Thailand?

In Thailand, The Government is putting a lot of efforts to promote Vocational Education toward Thailand 4.0. In the recent Policy Address, the Minister of Education highlighted the importance of vocational education and announced a series of measures to support its development.

Each and every youngster should be given the opportunity to unleash their talents. Multiple pathways should be offered to our young people with diverse abilities and aspiration to excel in life. Through equipping them with the expertise, skills and appropriate attitude, vocational education plays an indispensable role in nurturing the necessary manpower to support the growth of our economy. It is time to further promote the value of vocational education and change the entrenched perception of vocational education being a second choice.
