*In collaboration with our partner, FinnCredible.

Here at FoxICon, we believe that learning happens together. Thus, we often collaborate with our partner companies while training so that you can get the best possible experience from internationally experienced educators from across Finland. With our partner, FinnCredible, FoxICon is currently creating an in-depth 4-module learning programme titled 'Student-Centred, Cross-Curricular Learning', which combines ownership of learning, interdisciplinary instruction, phenomenon-based learning, and group dynamics. This is already launching in three countries across Europe and Asia, and we welcome other interested schools to join!

FoxICon can create individual trainings and training packages for clients based on their specific needs. We also have programmes specifically targeted for newly qualified teachers, which include basic learning strategies and teaching methodologies. FoxICon works through online webinars, but our experts can also travel to customers when the global conditions improve. In collaboration with FinnCredible, we also provide intensive workshops for teachers and school camps for students in Finland, which include school tours, active learning, and excursions in Finnish nature.

Welcome on a journey towards education excellence!

Emilia Repo, CEO, Fox International Consulting
